

Reaction from customers on their custom cameo portrait

A very moving response to an unusual gift

I receive incredible feedback from my customers. There is always surprise when they present a portrait cameo as this is such an unusual gift idea.

Often there are deeply emotional responses such as tears or being "lost for words".

The reaction to seeing a portrait of a loved one carved in gemstone is quite remarkable because the image on the stone looks "so alive".

With a portrait if the customer feels that you have captured the spirit of the subject, they will experience a strong positive emotional response.

However, if you have failed and they do not recognise their loved one they will have a strong negative reaction and hate the portrait carving.

All of my portrait cameos, over the last 10 years have been 100% successes.

Testimonials

It takes quite a lot of trust to place an order when you have probably never seen a Portrait cameo Jewel anywhere before. I am always aware of just how much faith is placed in me to deliver a lifelike portrait of a loved one.
